ELBA LITTLE THEATRE TO PRESENT "OUR TOWN" APRIL 9 & 10

The Elba Little Theatre will present its first play of the season, "Our Town", Friday and Saturday nights, April 9 and 10, in its recently purchased playhouse.

Curtain time is eight o'clock for the Elba Theatre's first production. No other play could be more appropriate for this special occasion. "Our Town", by Thornton Wilder, is an intriguing play of tremendous power which is the portrayal of life in any small town, of any human, from cradle to the grave.

Under the direction of Lamar Rainer, Jr., the play is provocatively presented without scenery.

The Pulitzer prize winner will stir the imagination of the audience, provide laughter, tug at the heartstrings and leave lumps in the throat.

When first on Broadway "Our Town" received these warm and excellent reviews: "A beautifully evocative play. A hauntingly beautiful play." - New York Times. "Beautiful, poignant, warm with gentle humor, 'Our Town' is tonic for the soul." - Pittsburgh Press. "One of the finest plays seen within a generation - a greathearted wise and tender play. No one with an interest in serious theatre of our time can afford to miss it." - Philadelphia Record.

Youth Celebrate National FHA Week April 4-10

The Future Homemakers of America will be even busier than usual from April 4th to 10th. This is the week the half million members of this national youth organization observe National FHA Week.

The FHA chapter at Elba High School has scheduled a number of activities for the week, according to Mrs. Sybil Taylor, chapter adviser. The plans include a tea honoring the faculty members of Elba High School, Thursday afternoon. Planned in the near future is the initiation of new members and attendance at the district meeting, April 17.

RED CARNATION - Mrs. E. L. Gibson pins a red carnation on her husband, Doctor Gibson, of Enterprise, at the Woman's Auxiliary of the Coffee County Medical Society last Wednesday night. The occasion was in honor of "Doctor's Day", an annual celebration observed by Auxiliaries in the South.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF COFFEE MEDICAL SOCIETY ENTERTAIN HUSBANDS

Members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Coffee County Medical Society entertained their husbands at dinner, last week, in the Elba Country Club. The occasion was in honor of "Doctor's Day", March 30th. This is an annual celebration observed by all Auxiliaries in the South.

On the corner buffet, a beautiful red carnation in crystal vase stood in loving memory of Doctor C. P. Hayes, who died recently after many years of faithful service, in and around Elba.

Another feature of the meeting was the awarding of the annual "Nursing Scholarship", an auxiliary project. This year's recipient is Miss Linda Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Elba. Mrs. E. L. Gibson, Doctor's Day Chairman, is shown giving the check to Linda. Miss Thomas is a Grimes, Doctor and Mrs. J. T. Linda. Miss Thomas is a senior in the Elba High School and will begin her training in the fall.

EHS BAND PERFORMING IN ALL-STATE CONTEST

The Elba High School Band is on the University of Alabama campus in Tuscaloosa, Alabama today to perform in the All-State Band Contest. The band left Elba this morning at 4:00 A.M. on test held there annually. The band will perform before three adjudicators in Foster Auditorium at 10:30 this morning and be judged on tone quality, intonation, technique, balance, interpretation, musical effect, discipline, and appearance. Upon completing this phase of the contest the band will then go to the University of Alabama "Million Dollar" Band bandroom where it will be required to sight read two compositions before another adjudicator. In the sight reading part of the contest the band director is given one minute to study the two selections, then the entire band is given two minutes to study their parts. When this time period is up the band proceeds to interpret and play the music as near perfect as possible. Sight reading completes the contest.

It might be added that in All-State Band Contests, bands do not compete against each other, rather they compete according to Mr. J. V. Summers, band director. Eddie Cooper and Suzanne Prior will be competing in the Alabama Solo and Ensemble Contest also today. This contest is held in connection with the band contest.

"Mainly from lack of dietary education," said Dr. R. Hillman of State University of N.Y., "eating little or no dairy foods, has caused up to three-quarters of our teenagers to be two-thirds deficient in vitamins A & C, thiamin, riboflavin, calcium and iron."

It is hard to resist sickness without nutritive foods and sufficient vitamins. Depend less on hurried snacks and more on good nourishing food. Ask your physician for dietary advice. You will live longer and happier. You will have healthier children.

"The story of this event that is so vital to each of us is told in a setting that cannot be described by words. The entire program is an experience that can never be forgotten," said Governor George C. Wallace. He invited Alabama and visitors from other states to attend the pageant.

This marks the 18th year that this pageant has been presented in the open air in Mound State Monument. Called "The Road to Calvary," it is sponsored by the Moundville Methodist Church in cooperation with all the churches of the town. Their combined choirs furnish the music for the pageant.

The service opens with "Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem," the first of a parade of 18 "living pictures," and closes with the picture of the three crosses raised on Calvary. This takes place at sunrise.

The service concludes with the Resurrection scene in the garden of Joseph of Arimathea. Other moving scenes include Jesus praying for Jerusalem, the Last Supper, Gethsemane and Jesus before Pilate. The scene at the empty tomb in the garden upon the discovery of the Resurrection is a joyful and inspirational climax to the service.

Nationwide notice has been given the event, not only for the unique feature of its presentation by a cooperative community effort, but also for the quality of the production. Attendance has ranged from 4,000 to 10,000 annually.

The program will begin at 4 p.m. Easter Sunday, April 18. Officials urge all visitors to arrive early in order to see the entire pageant, although well-planned traffic control measures will keep cars and buses moving steadily.

College students, sports and social life will be on exhibit for high school juniors and seniors from throughout Coffee County April 10 when they pay a Spring Visit to Birmingham-Southern College.

The college plans to open the doors of its classrooms, dormitories, sorority and fraternity houses and the whole of its 250-acre campus to hundreds of high school visitors.

Gaily decorated booths, exhibiting student activities in theatre, music, art, publications and other areas, will line the main quadrangle. Visitors will be invited to see typical college classes in action and tour exhibits of Southern's academic departments. There they can watch glass-blowing, test their own physical and emotional reactions in the psychology laboratory or sip lemonade from the chemistry department's "still".

Reservations to attend the Spring Visit at Southern may be made by juniors and seniors with their high school counselors.

Over 100 Loans Made To Low Income Families

More than 100 loans have been made to help low-income families in rural Alabama raise their incomes and improve their level of living under the war on poverty according to Robert C. "Red" Hamberg, State Director, Farmers Home Administration.

About one-half these loans have been made to small farmers who are unable to obtain needed credit from local lenders or through the regular FHA program. Funds are advanced for farm operating and family living expenses plus the development or addition of enterprises that will result in a permanent increase in the applicant's income.

The other loans have been made to rural residents, non-farmers, to help them develop or expand non-agricultural enterprises. Funds have been advanced for such purposes as charcoal production, blacksmith shop, wood working and upholstery shop, fish bait production, radio and TV repair shop, lawn mower and small motor repair shop, meat curing, sewing center, welding shop, fishing and trapping equipment and to enlarge a country store.

To be eligible for credit under the Economic Opportunity Act, the individual applicant must:

1. Live in a rural area or town of less than 2500 people.

2. Have a need for additional income to meet basic family needs.

3. Be unable to obtain credit from other sources.

4. Have reasonable prospects for success in the enterprise being financed.

FHA may also make loans to low-income families to establish cooperatives and for operating capital to existing cooperatives. These loans must primarily serve low-income farm families and rural residents.

Loans to individuals may be repayable over periods up to 15 years and cooperatives up to 30 years. The interest rate is 4-1/8 percent.

Mr. Hamberg points out that there are thousands of rural families in Alabama with gross income less than $3,000 who could help themselves through the use of credit and technical guidance available to them under the "poverty" program.

Farm NEWS

BY TOM CASADAY, CO. AGENT

"Potential farm production is increasing three times as fast as 30 years ago with most of the increase occurring in crop production per acre." The above statement is taken from a report by Walter W. Wilcox of the United States Library of Congress, Dr. Wilcox also reveals the following facts about improvements in efficiency in American agriculture: "Traction power on farms has increased 40 percent in the past 10 years and farmers have over five times as much drawbar power as in the 1920's when horses were common."

G. B. Phillips, Specialist in Animal Industry, plans to meet with us on April 8 to discuss hog production and the organization of a Coffee County Hog Producers Association. A lot of people in the county are realizing that we need to increase hog production. One big possibility for real small farmers is the production of feeder pigs. If you would like further information on this, let us know and we will be glad to send you more complete information. Chamber of Commerce

One spray of Atrazine controls weeds and grasses in corn.

You can reduce or even eliminate the need for cultivating corn. Just spray Atrazine 80W herbicide at planting. Rainfall moves it into the soil to give you season-long control of most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses.

Growing clean corn with Atrazine means your crop won't have need competition for moisture and soil nutrients. So your yields will be higher. Profits, too.

And, you'll free labor and equipment for other important farm tasks, like planting cotton or tobacco.

This year, take advantage of weed control in corn with Atrazine... the herbicide you spray just once for season-long control.

Contact your local supplier now for Atrazine.

office in Enterprise, at our office, and at most of the seed and feed stores in the county. If you miss all of these sources, call or write us and we will mail you the rules and regulations and application form. Let's make more corn in 1965!

We have a new circular on fertilizer and lime for ornamentals. If you would like to have this new circular, just ask for Circular P-26, and we will mail you a copy. This was prepared by Doctor Walter F. Sowell, our Soils Specialist.

Profits are determined to a large extent by good stands. It is mighty important to get cotton, corn, and peanuts up before dry weather comes along the latter part of April and May. Plant all of these crops just as soon as you can. However, on peanuts, wait just a few days to let the soil warm up. M.D. Bond, our peanut specialist, says to always put peanut seed in moist soil.

Jake Morrow of Elba advises that he would like to have all interested growers sign up and get their pea seed on or before April 10. A lot of people will find this market to be very profitable. If you are interested in planting a few acres, be sure to sign up. See Mr. Morrow or me.

A. W. Wilson of the New Hope Community and L. B. McCall of Goodman and several other folks are signing up for the corn production of feeder pigs. This is a new contest which is being sponsored by the Enterprise Chamber of Commerce. We have applied to send you more complete information. Chamber of Commerce

The 4-H, FFA, & FFA Fat Calf Show and Sale will be the big activity for April at the Enterprise Livestock Barn. The show begins at 9:30 a.m. and the sale begins at 1:15 p.m. This is also the date of the regular spring sale of the Coffee County Cattleman's Association. Be sure to make your plans to come out and attend the show and sale.

Where treflan is used for pre-emergence weed control, light rotary hoeing should not affect its performance. Rotary hoeing will reduce the effect of Karmex and the other herbicides. To what extent it will reduce the effectiveness depends on how much hoeing is necessary to break the crust and allow the plants to emerge. The more the pre-emergence band is disturbed, the more its effectiveness is reduced. Farmers should disturb the pre-emergence band only if absolutely necessary to insure a stand of cotton.

The winners of the junior and senior division of the 4-H talent contest were: 1st place, New Hope girls; 2nd place, Career Club; and 3rd place, Goodman girls.

The winners of the elementary division were: 1st place, Mt. Pleasant girls; 2nd place, Pleasant girls; and 3rd place, Goodman boys.

This contest was held in the New Brockton school with approximately 100 people attending.

We would like to have several 4-H Club boys to enter the area peanut production contest. If you are interested, please let me know within the next few days so that we can enroll you. There will be some county awards as well as area.

When fertilizing shrubs, broadcast the fertilizer throughout a circle around the shrub and which extends a few inches beyond limb tips. Most of the plant roots can obtain some of the plant nutrients in fertilizer applied broadcast.

There has been a great deal of discussion concerning the marketing of florigrant peanuts. I would suggest that you check into marketing facilities before you plant them. There is a strong possibility that many of the local buying buyers and shellers are not encouraging growers to plant them because of problems in segregating, storing, and shipping, and disposition.

Prominent Citizen Dies

Wille Herbert Haire, 73, of Elba, died Friday night, about 10 o'clock following a long illness. Mr. Haire was one of Elba's most prominent citizens. Mr. Haire was born November 19, 1886, in Troy, in early childhood he moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Haire, to Elba, where he grew to young manhood. In July, 1911 he was married to Miss Sallie Stokes Haire, who preceded him in death ten years ago. For a number of years Mr. Haire owned and operated very successfully a bottling works business in Troy and Elba. During that time he and his family resided in Troy. Later they returned to Elba, and Mr. Haire became agent for Capital Trailways, which position he held for twenty years. He was known and appreciated by local people and all who came in contact with him at the bus station for his courteous and efficient service to the public. He was a member of Elba's First Baptist Church and the Masonic Lodge.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church Monday morning with Pastor Charles Graham, pastor, and the Rev. Fred David Carter, pastor of the United States Army National Guard.

Campbell Named Open House Chairman Of Cancer Crusade In Florala Good Friday

Loyce Campbell, of Elba, has been named chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1965 April Crusade in Coffee County. The announcement was made by James J. Britton, of Montgomery, crusade chairman for South Alabama, who said the Society is "fortunate to have such outstanding leadership for its 1965 educational and fund-raising effort in this county".

April is "Cancer Control Month" by act of Congress. "We can expect our most successful educational and fund-raising campaign ever," the area chairman said, "last year the Society raised $333,307 in Alabama and distributed thousands of educational leaflets in this county. The area chairman said he was pleased that the Society was emphasizing the "Tell Your Neighbor" aspect of the campaign. "This means," he said, "that we will do our best through trained volunteers to reach every home with a leaflet giving the life-saving facts about cancer and about the Society's program of education, research and service to the cancer patient. People must know before they can act. Every doorbell must be rung before the Crusade can be considered a success."

The Florala News secured the building north of the one it has occupied since 1924 last week. The building already occupied by The Florala News and the extra 2,000 feet of floor space leased in the fall have undergone an approximate $10,000 remodeling program. Badly needed offices were added, work rooms, studio and library and an additional darkroom. Included in the offices are personal offices for the publisher and managing editor, Larry Woodham, an office for society editor, and a bookkeeping office. Among the improvements are the large work area where the paste-ups are made ready for the camera, an area for the cold-type machines, a darkroom for the use of making prints for the newspaper which is in addition to the one for the developing of newspaper pages and for printing. A modern studio with the latest of cameras and lighting is in addition to previous operation. Another convenient feature is a complete kitchen with stove, refrigerator, hot water, table and chairs. A kitchen is a "must" in the erecting of modern new buildings today. Added to the improvements is a powder room and shower. Walls are of cypress and pine paneling. Floors are tile. The drop type used is a lot today. Central heating and air conditioning have been added to the comfort of employees and customers.
